Dear Friends and Families of St. Mark's,

Rev. Alston B. Johnson
abjohnson@
stmarkscathedral.net

I hope that you find yourself at the end of a holy and blessed Lent, and looking forward to Holy Week. We have also been blessed with some extraordinary spring days; please take some time to enjoy the beauty that God shares with us.

Emerging from COVID protocols, we continue to expand our portfolio of activities and fellowship at St. Mark's. I feel that I am at the airport welcoming home friends and family that I have not seen in years; and for some of us that has been the case. We are spending more time together as a congregation, and the staff is making plans for the future; this is a time when we need your support in all its forms: time, gifts for ministry, and financial support. I find it an incredible blessing that our congregational life is sprouting amid ground that had been burned over by the wildfires of the pandemic.

One neighborhood of cathedral life that has captured my imagination is sharing our Christian faith, and equipping our children and younger members to become disciples. I have been reading deeply in the work of Mark DeVries and Andy Root, two individuals with roots in this ministry that make sense to me and give me a sense of the ground that lay ahead. Mother Beth, Sarah Wilkes, and Stephen Burnett are all gifted in the area of youth discipleship. We have been meeting, reading, listening, and praying about the post-pandemic direction of how our congregation will bring the lives and realities of our younger Christians into the cathedral frame. Both Mark and Andy give good advice to congregations who are undertaking such a project.

Think back for a moment to the culture in which you grew up. Think back 60, 40, 20, 10 years to the culture in which you first heard the story of the Gospel, and perhaps that moment as a young person when you realized that the story of God is also your story. Think back to that moment when Jesus the Christ, became Jesus the Good Shepherd and Friend; that moment when you moved from God as an idea, to God as a relationship shaping your daily life.

I cannot think back without recalling the faces, the voices, and the presence of adults who made the mystery of God's love something real for me in the season of life in which I was living. I cannot think back as adult without recalling those moments with young people, sharing the faith with them, that have shaped me in my later walk with Christ. I believe that we are sitting on top of a treasure in the lives of our young Christians, and I believe that in sharing our faith with them we will find the Risen Christ, the Jesus of Easter, rising in our midst.

Of course there will be starts and stops. Of course there will be highs and lows. Of course there will be joys and frustrations; all those things that are true of any path into discipleship. For reasons perhaps known to God alone, I simply discern that we are being called out into the deeper waters of this ministry at this time.

If you would like to take a deeper dive into this conversation, try listening to this podcast with Andy Root: <https://www.newtimereligion.org/> And in your personal prayers, please add the children and youth of St. Mark's into that list of "hopefuls" that sometimes grace our prayers. Together we can find our place in that "great chain of faith" that extends all the way from our baptismal font and confirmation classes all the way back to Sea of Galilee and the River Jordan.

*Many Blessings and Godspeed,
Alston*

Cathedral School News

by Rev. Beth Hendrix, Curate
beth@stmarkscathedral.net

Since joining St. Mark's Cathedral in July 2021, I have been blessed to float between the Cathedral, the preschool, and St. Mark's Cathedral School. I recently facilitated the confirmation class, which ended just before Spring break. "Can't you get the school to extend our class?" was the plea of the hearty confirmation students. Sure, the students enjoyed a class that did not concentrate on grades or measurements. But that is not their motivation for wanting to continue. They each have known one another for years because of St. Mark's Cathedral School. They have been in class, have seen each other outside of school, and have some cross-over friends in other parts of their lives. They discovered in confirmation the one connection they have in common that outweighs everything else. Their common ties in Jesus Christ.

We went through the liturgy for confirmation in our final class meeting: where they will sit, what Bishop Owensby will say, and the manual actions he will embody. They will respond to questions posed. The community gathered will join them in affirming their faith in the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. And this community will promise to continue walking this spiritual journey with them.

"Where you stand today is where you will stand if you decide to be married in the Cathedral. Where you stand today is where you will stand with your own children if you decide to have them baptized in the Cathedral. Remember what you do here. This is where their journeys begin." And that is where our journeys are intertwined with our confirmands. We affirm our faith in Christ and our support of these young people. May 15th is a few months away, but please mark your calendars for the 10:30 am service. Let us all join together in affirming the faith of our young people. This is the way our class can be extended for years to come.

The Fasting Fund – a St. Mark's Lenten Tradition

One of St. Mark's Lenten traditions is the Fasting Fund. The purpose is simple: We ask that you forgo one meal a week, and contribute a few dollars – what you would have spent on that meal – to the fasting fund. (Of course, you can forgo more than one meal a week if you wish.)

Baskets are placed at the back of the chapel for the 7:00 a.m. Eucharist services and the base of the steps to the chancel for Sunday services to collect these offerings. Please consider making the Fasting Fund a part of your Lenten observance. A simple fast of one or more meals a week can teach us a lot about the temptations Jesus faced in the wilderness and our own earthly journey. Join us.

Wednesday Night Book Group

Wednesday nights during Easter (April 20-May 25) the Wednesday Night Book Group will read and study “The Grace of Les Misérables” by Matt Rawle.

Book Overview:
“Victor Hugo’s Les Misérables is a truly epic story. Whether you’ve tackled the

1,400-page 19th century novel, witnessed the Broadway musical (and memorized its soundtrack), or seen the several screen adaptations of it, you already know the power of its story.”

In the six-week study of The Grace of Les Misérables, author and pastor Matt Rawle dives into six ideals found in the story—grace, justice, poverty, revolution, love, and hope—each represented by a character in Hugo’s story. As these imperfect and relatable characters interact, we can see how these ideals work together (perhaps even in spite of each other) out in the world.

In keeping with his previous works, Matt Rawle brings us to the intersection of Church and Pop Culture by drawing parallels between the iconic story and musical and our Christian calling, inspiring us to both understand our faith and live it out in the world.”

St. Mark's Veterans War Memorial

St. Mark's Cathedral Veterans, and Families and Friends of our St. Mark's Veterans:

The St. Mark's WWI and WWII Veterans War Memorial has been refurbished and restored, and the restored Veterans Memorial will be located on an easel in the narthex of the Cathedral for viewing.

In keeping with the tradition of honoring our United States Veterans, we would like to create another memorial to honor all St. Mark's Cathedral Veterans who have served in United States Armed Services during a designated time of war or conflict since our previous memorial was created. Eligibility will be based on the criteria of the National Defense Service Medal, which is currently awarded to anyone who has served on active duty, or as an active reservist, in the United States Armed Forces during the Korean War (June 27, 1950 – July 27, 1954), Vietnam War (January 1, 1961 – August 14, 1974), Gulf Wars (August 2, 1990 – November 30, 1995) or the Global War on Terrorism (September 11, 2001 – Present). In this regard, we need your help in gathering the names of all eligible Veterans of whom you are aware, who are or were members of our Parish, before, during or after serving in the United States Armed Services. Please forward all names and any additional information of which you might be aware (including rank, branch of service, years of service, the military conflict in which they served and whether they died in service) to Lisa Love at lisallove6203@gmail.com.

*The LORD is my shepherd; *
I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; *
he leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul; *
he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his Name's sake.*

Dear Friends,

During the Lenten season we hear and read Scripture about the pain and suffering that Jesus accepted and endured on his path to becoming our friend and savior; Christ the Messiah. Lent is a time we turn inward with intention, and we seek the courage and grace to walk upon ground in our hearts, minds, and souls that is wounded and in need of healing.

Some of us find that we are walking upon that ground through other times and seasons as well. Despair, crisis, hardship, shame, grief – these are realities that each of us carry. Often we don't know where to turn, and we might feel that we have to swim in these deep waters alone; however, that is not true.

God does not promise a “pass” from these difficulties in our lives; instead, God promises the presence of His son, and promises us one another. I believe that God is pleased and heaven rejoices when we reach out for companionship in our sorrow, grief, and anger in life.

A Stephen Minister may be the companion for whom you have been waiting. Stephen Ministers are “one-on-one” Christian companions who listen confidentially, and are spiritually present during another's time of need. I have found such companions so helpful and transformative in my own life.

If you are feeling that a Stephen Minister might be helpful to you, please contact one of the following:

Youth WORK

For a while, I thought it was like the Loch Ness monster or Sasquatch. People said it existed, but I'd never seen it, and nobody was able to tell me how I could. But finally, I found it, and it was as amazing as I'd imagined.

No, it wasn't a rare novel or comic book worth millions. In fact, it had no monetary value at all. But to someone who has spent his adult life either doing or thinking about youth ministry (and who has also been a longtime reader and lover of Dietrich Bonhoeffer), it was mind-boggling. There, resting at the end of Volume 12 of the “Dietrich Bonhoeffer Works,” hidden in an appendix, was “Eight Theses on Youth Work.”

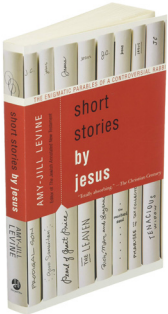

Nobody knows when Bonhoeffer wrote this short essay, but it was clearly a major part of his most consistent pastoral experience. It's hard for many to believe, but Bonhoeffer spent his entire pastoral ministry, from 1925 to 1939, with either children or youth. All of it! And he wrote these theses toward the end of that period, after years of experience with young people, and writing other theological essays and books.

Bonhoeffer's eight theses have a lot to teach Christians today, especially as we struggle to help young people hold on to their faith during the transition from adolescence to adulthood. At a time when many are concerned about the “rise of the nones” and young people “drifting away” from faith, Bonhoeffer has much wisdom to offer. And as is so often the case with Bonhoeffer, he speaks to us in surprising and unexpected ways. <https://faithandleadership.com/andrew-root-take-it-bonhoeffer-there-no-christian-youth>

The Good Steward

A family counselor's favorite bit of advice is, "Love is a four letter word spelled T-I-M-E." She maintains that the best way to prove your love for anyone is to spend time with them ... and for them. The greatest of all commandments is this: "Love the Lord your God." That too involves our time. God loved us first, the Bible records. It is good for us to remember that God proved his love by giving us his time ... time to share our sorrows, time to teach, time to pay the supreme sacrifice, time for everything we needed. As always, God gave in generous measure. How sad then, for us to give so little time in return. We, of course, are the losers! Someone has quipped: "We are now stuck with a sixty minute God." It would be another matter if we didn't much need God's company, or if this world of ours didn't require more loving acts of Christian service. Everywhere empty hearts and broken lives beg silently for some help. The sixty minute God can hardly begin to deal with all these problems, but the real God can do it. Spend some time where it counts. Spend some time in God's presence to have your own empty heart filled, and spend some time in God's service filling the needs of people.
